CRAZED BY GRIEF,

Peebles, in Pitiful State of Collapse, Has to Be Helped Into Room.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, May 24.—Following the coroner's inquest and the preliminary hearing in this case of the death of Mrs. Narcissus Peebles, held to-day at noon in the police courtroom, bugene Peebles, the husband and confessed murderer, was ordered held for the Corporation Court grand jury. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Mrs. Peebles came to her death from fractures of the skull caused by blows from an axe in the hands of her husband, Eugene Peebles.

Weak and on the verge of another collapse, Peebles was taken into the court from the jail hospital, and had to be almost carried to and from the room. He seems to be in a state of complete mental collapse, and it was evident to all that his crime had half-crazed the young man with grief and remorse. On the advice of friends he remained silent.

Peebles has received a letter from his mother, Mrs. Alice Woodward, of Alken, S. C., who expresses her confidence in her boy, and promises that attorney McCloud, of Alken, S. C., will come on to Norfolk and look out for his defense. The mother's letter was payed, not to come to Norfolk, fearing trouble, for which the boy, the reported, had been consulted, falled to furnish a key. O'Leary, it is rumored; had suggested that the prison might be torn down. The officials, haggard and worn, were, it is believed, just upon the point of accepting the O'Leary tip, when the following telegram was received from Muncie, Ind.; "When you want to capture a man feed him.

This always works."

The telegram was signed simply, "A

The suggestion saved the day. Three chickens, with the trimmings, were cooked and set out as bait, with the guards placed under cover.

The "escaped prisoner" was suddenly seen eating the chicken,
Fifteen guards rushed upon him.
Three shots were fired and a call for

IMPROVE CHATHAM SCHOOLS.

Educational Meeting Held on Saturday Arouses Taierest of Citizens.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHATHAM, VA., May 24.—The educational meeting in the opera house on Saturday night awakened the audience to the need of better facilities in the High School and the absolute necessity of enlarging the present building, which contains only four rooms. County Superintendent F. B. Watson called the meeting to order and stated the object for which it had been called. Ho was followed by J. H. Whitchead in a few remarks on the importance of practical education. Prof. C. R. Warren followed Mr. Whitehead in a few remarks on the importance of practical education. Prof. C. R. Warren followed Mr. Whitehead, and his short talk was along the same line, laying great stress upon bettering the facilities for education. Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. S. Thomas, of Richmond, was the last speaker. Mr. Thomas referred to the importance of manual and demestic training in public schools and called attention to the opportunity offered Chatham more than a year agg to have departments of agriculture, manual and domestic training added to the High School here. At the same time he stated that he was afraid Chatham had lost its opportunity to secure the doronial end of $2,400 for such schools yet he bolleved that if the offices would at more go to work and assure the State Board of Education that they would at more such assure the State Board of Education that they would at more such assure the State Board of Hausellon here, A committee of three, consisting of Mayor J H. Hargrave from the Town Council T. J. Coles, of the Chatham District School Board, and J. H. Whitehead, of Chatham, was appointed fe could easily be heard to the remotest corner. She scored an immense success, and when the program had been completed hundreds of those present crowded forward to thank the great singer personally for the rare pleasure she had given them.

In her program for the festival here are included two great arias, which would be a severe test for any singer. One of these is the famous Mad Scene from "Hamlet," the other the great aria from Mozart's "Magic Flute," Both are to be sung with full orchestral accompaniment, and their rendition will be a revelation to those who have never before had the pleasure of hearing this greatest of American-born and American-taught singers.

Had Great Rehearsal,
Another spendid rehearsal of "The Rose Maiden" was held by the Wednesday Club chorus last night, under the Greation of Tall Esen Morgan, of New York City. This afternoon at 420 and again to-night at 3:15 rehearsals will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, and the final rehearsal will be held at the same hour and place to-morrow night. This will complete the rehearsals for the midsummer festival, which opens next Monday night in the City Auditorium.

Mr. Morgan is greatly pleased with the splendid work of the chorus, which he pronounces one of the very best he has ever had the pleasure of directing, and says he is looking forward to magnificent rendition of "The Rose Maiden" and of Gouncd's "Gallia."
